

CITY OF SCOTTSBLUFF WATER DEPARTMENT

Listing of local contractors who have a State Certified Backflow Operator on staff trained to conduct tests on testable backflow prevention devices. When the operator completes the test, they are required to provide the City Water Department with a copy of the results.

NOTE: There are two things that take place when a testable device is installed – the actual installation and then a test to make sure the device is working properly. A plumbing contractor is to install a testable backflow device. If the plumber who installs the device is not certified to test it, you will need to hire someone to have the test performed.
